Haiti's national dish:

Liberty Soup: Soup Joumou

It is a mildly spicy soup native to Haitian cuisine. The soup is traditionally based on a large winter squash that resembles a pumpkin. The squash slices are simmered in a saucepan along with pieces of beef, potato, plantains and vegetables such as parsley, carrots, green cabbage, celery and onions. A Must for January 1st.

This quarter Haiti's proverb:

"Sa ou fè se li ou wè"

Translation:

What you do is what you see.

Meaning:

What we see in our life is the result of our actions.
